

World Water Monitoring Day

September 18 through October 18, 2007!

This is an international outreach program that builds public awareness and involvement in protecting water resources around the world. The Virginia Water Monitoring Council is coordinating the World Water Monitoring Day activities in Virginia. Plan now to participate in Water Monitoring Day event in a watershed near you -- or plan an event! This is a great experience for school children too. If you have information about events in your watershed, please email Dana Roberts, Virginia Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts (dana.roberts@vaswcd.org) or Gary Speiran with the USGS (gspeiran@usgs.gov).

Our goal is to have events in every basin in Virginia! Other USGS sponsored activities across the country can be found at http://www.usgs.gov/homepage/science/features/world_water_2007.asp.